Big sale every day next week at Moore's.

$10,000 will be given away for best solution to the Million Dollar Mystery.

See prices on ladies and childrens shoes, at Moore's.

Hemp cutting is already in progress and tobacco cutting near at hand.

The Stanford fair just about depopulated Lancaster during three days of last week.

See the next installment of the "Million Dollar Mystery", Friday night at Opera House.

Lewis Landram put off his visit until he saw through our columns that "gar-den sass" and fruit was plentiful.

Don't fail to see the new woollens for fall suits at J. W. Smith's Tailoring Opening Aug. 27, 28 and 29th 1914.

A Fair in Garrard is already talked of, so is an interurban road, and one is about as near realization as the other.

Special representative from Schloss Bros & Co will hold Fall Tailoring Opening at J. W. Smith's, Aug. 27, 28 and 29th 1914.

The corn crop continues to give promise of a bumper yield, and the smile of the farmer grows broader with the prospect.

Farmers are rushing their fall plowing as much as the weather will permit, and seeding time will find many of them prepared.

There is gloom, deep and abiding, among the kiddies of the community, school begins next Monday, and not one of them "have had half enough vacation."

The thrifty housewives are canning and "putting up" an unprecedented amount of vegetables in anticipation of the high cost of living to be expected during the coming winter.

Score one more victim for the useless, unmuzzled cur dog, so many of which infest Lancaster. A crazy dog frightened the pony and caused him to run with Mrs. House with such serious results.

Sugar is high but tin cans are cheap and if the housewife cannot preserve she can utilize the latter, and later on if sugar goes down, the cans may be opened and the contents made into preserves.

Look at your Label and send us that dollar.

Third episode of "Million Dollar Mystery" at Opera House Friday night.

A USEFUL HORSE.

Mr. J. E. Sherrow of Bourne was in town Court Day and showed us a picture of his faithful old horse "Barney" hitched to a buggy and pulling Mr. Sherrow and his five grandchildren. "Barney" is the first horse that Mr. Sherrow ever owned and has been in his possession for twenty eight years and is thirty years old. The owner says that the horse has "raised his seven children and educated them and is now carrying the third generation to school". "Barney's" physical condition and his longevity are proofs of his faithful a master as he has been a servant.

ALWAYS SOMETHING NEW Wonders Never Cease In Stanford.

From Lincoln county, the place where they artificially inject the water into watermelons, where hail dams up the streams and kills the fish and where heroic women seize black snakes of immense size, and calmly lead them out of their houses, there now comes another miraculous story. This time a Danville man reports passing through the streets of Stanford after midnight and finding the chickens of the town out under the electric lights catching bugs, and so intent upon their bug catching were the fowls that it became necessary to stop the machine to avoid killing them. The story comes unvouched for, and we are personally not acquainted with the gentleman who tells it, but coming from Stanford, the place where wonders never cease, we of course do not doubt it.

TOBACCO TO BECOME NEGOTIABLE Emergency Currency To Be Issued.

Senator James has received assurance from Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo that emergency currency will be issued upon tobacco warehouse receipts, which means that these receipts will become practically negotiable. As soon as the crop is placed in a warehouse and a receipt issued therefor, money may be borrowed thereon almost up to the full value of the crop, regardless of whether or not the foreign markets are closed against the commodity. This news is very gratifying to the tobacco raisers of Kentucky, as the question of how funds were to be obtained on our immense tobacco crop this fall was beginning to be a very vexing problem.

SALE OF FINE JERSEY HERD.

On page 3 will be seen the advertisement of Bastins' great sale of Jerseys. Mr. Bastin has one of the best herds in the state and has done much to improve the breed of this stock in the county. The herd is headed by the Bull Torono, 16th Duke. Don't forget the date, Thursday Sept. 10th at ten o'clock at the barns on Hamilton Ave.

ALWAYS A WELCOME GUEST IN LANCASTER.

Lewis Landram, editor of one of central Kentucky's brightest newspapers the Danville Messenger, was in Lancaster this week spending his annual vacation, from Saturday night until Monday morning, with his relative Mr. H. Clay Sutton. Lewis is looking hale and hearty and feeling fine, and was accorded a hearty welcome by his friends here, and that means everybody, big and little, white and black.

PHILADELPHIA TO LANCASTER BY AUTOMOBILE.

Rev. Henry Faulkner arrived in Lancaster Tuesday afternoon in his Ford touring car from Philadelphia, having made the trip of 700 miles without a single mishap. Mr. Faulkner is as good a driver as ever sat behind a steering wheel and is very proud of his car, this being the third one he has owned of this brand. He and his estimable family are stopping with Mrs. Faulkners parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Mason.

NEW ENTERPRISE IN LANCASTER.

Mr. John W. Francis has purchased of Joe Bryant, the modern pressing machinery recently purchased by Mr. Bryant, and has removed the same to the rooms over the postoffice. He has secured the services of Mr. Huffman the expert workman, and is running an up-to-date cleaning and pressing establishment. Mr. Francis who has so long been connected with the establishment of Mr. J. W. Smith, has severed his connection with Mr. Smith in order that he may devote his entire to the new business.

JUDGE J. J. GREENLEAF LANDS NICE POSITION.

It will be a source of gratification to the many friends of Judge J. J. Greenleaf of Richmond to know that he has been appointed to a lucrative position in the Department of Justice. He will be located in the state of Georgia, and will remove his family to the scene of his labors at an early date.

Judge Greenleaf is not a stranger in Lancaster where he is a frequent visitor and is quite popular, and a host of friends rejoice with him in his good fortune. Mr. Greenleaf is a nephew of Mr. G. S. Greenleaf and Mrs. H. C. Kauffman, and is a brilliant young practitioner at the Richmond bar.

HEMP AND TOBACCO CUTTING IN PROGRESS.

Farmers have commenced the cutting of the hemp crop, and the fibre is reported to be unusually good. Messrs. Dave Dudderar and James House who have in the neighborhood of 200 acres, report splendid conditions of their large acreage although the bulk of the crop remains as yet untouched.

In ten days the large tobacco crop of the county will be ready for the knife, and farmers are already beginning to make preparations for its housing and curing, and owing to the propitious weather of the past few weeks, it is expected to be unusually good. What a few weeks since seemed destined to be a failure, under the influence of the copious showers has developed into a splendid crop, and if frost is not unusually early, even the latest crops will make good tobacco.

WHY NOT TAG KENTUCKY BACHELORS?

A great many State legislatures have given consideration to bills taxing bachelors and many convincing arguments have been presented that who escape matrimony should pay a penalty but why not tag them as a more painless and effective method of extermination? If the bachelors were tagged the widows could easily find them and Cupid would do the rest. The bachelor is naturally timid, but under the encouraging influences of a merry widow he can easily be led to the altar, for there is no more helpless craft aloft than a lovesick swain who has passed the age of discretion, and the little imp that plays ping-pong with human hearts has no more capable ally than a woman who loves at second sight, for experience makes Cupid subtle and bold.

The women have tag days to promote most every other public enterprise, and why not a tag day for bachelors? We have in Kentucky approximately seven-thousand bachelors and an equal number of widows. Why not get them together and solve two vexatious problems with one marriage license?

DEPLORABLE ACCIDENT

MRS. JAMES HOUSE
PAINFULLY INJURED
In Runaway.

At six o'clock last Saturday when Mrs. James House was leaving town for her home a few miles from town on the Lexington pike, her pony became frightened at a dog which ran barking after the pony shortly after leaving the public square, and the animal began to run. When in front of the home of Mr. Joseph Robinson the vehicle was overturned and the occupants, Mrs. House and a young boy named Duncan, were thrown violently to the ground. Mrs. House had her right leg broken at the ankle and a severe cut on her left leg below the knee. Young Duncan suffered a fractured bone in one leg, a sprained ankle and a severe concussion of the head. Mrs. House was taken to the home of Mr. J. A. Beazley and after having her injuries attended, she was taken to her home in Mr. J. S. Haselden's auto truck; she was accompanied by several ladies of the town, and the ride made as comfortable as possible, and the good lady is resting as easily as could be expected after her trying experience. Her injuries while very severe and painful, are not of a dangerous character, and she will, barring complications, soon be out again. Young Duncan, whose father lives on the farm of Mr. A. B. Brown, was also taken to his home in an automobile, and his injuries are also doing nicely.

Luckily the little son, James Jr., who came to town with his mother, remained in town with his father, and expected to accompany him home in the buggy. Had the child been with his mother when the accident occurred, the matter might have terminated less fortunately for all parties, as the added care of the child would have prevented Mrs. House from giving so much of her attention to the recalcitrant pony.

The entire community sympathizes deeply with Mrs. House in her misfortune, and hope for her early recovery.

FLORAL HALL A GREAT SUCCESS.

At The Stanford Fair.
The management of the Stanford fair certainly deserves great credit for splendid exhibition given at the "Floral Hall" in connection with the fair. It was one of the show spots and came in for a just amount of attention from the men as well as the ladies. There was an exhibition every kind of fancy work, embroidery, lace etc., quilts, counterpanes and patchwork; chickens, vegetables, farm products, preserves, jellies, cakes, pies and every toothsome thing imaginable. Everything was splendidly arranged and the place was constantly thronged with an admiring crowd.

Mrs. J. R. Mount of Lancaster, was a liberal exhibitor, and it seems to us she came away with more than her share of the premiums. She took 1st on cherry, peach, pear and grape preserves, on canned peaches, pears and cherries, sweet peppers, plate of grapes and calico quilt and second on black cake.

Mrs. John Mount also took first premium on the best plate of grapes.

POSTPONED TERM OF COURT OPENS.

"Order" was called by Sheriff Robinson in the Circuit Court on Monday. Judge Hardin on the bench. The first order of business was the roll call of the Grand and Petit Juries. These bodies were the same as in the June term of the Court in as much as this term is merely a postponement which was granted by Judge Hardin in order that the farmers might more easily attend to their duties. The members of the Grand Jury are:

J. N. Denny, Foreman
G. W. Rice
J. S. Schooler
Geo. Spoonamore
Tom Hicks
W. T. Watson
S. B. Henry
R. I. Burton

G. W. Elam
J. A. Conn
J. B. Lawson
J. A. Arnold

Wm. Murphey
Jno. Royston
Lloyd Bourne
W. R. Vaughn
Taylor Hignite
J. H. Posey
J. W. Sweeney
Atm Bourne.

Judge Hardin in his instructions warned the Grand Jury that a great amount of work had to be done in this two weeks term and asked them to make all possible haste in their investigations. He paid the county and the officials a fine compliment on the high morale of the citizens but warned them that "they take heed lest they fail".

In the Circuit Court here Monday, Robt. Mitchell, colored, was given an indeterminate sentence of two to ten years for false swearing before the Grand Jury.

Rev. Henry Faulkner will conduct the services at the Presbyterian church next Sunday morning.

THE MAN OF THE HOUR.

"The man of the hour" is the caption under which the Interior Journal runs the likeness of their popular fair secretary, and the title is very fitting, for he was indeed "the man of the hour". Working unremittently and intelligently, Mr. Kincaid had the satisfaction of seeing the fruits of his labors result in one of the best exhibitions ever held in Central Kentucky, with a record breaking attendance.

We feel justly proud of W. P. Kincaid who left this county to take up his home in Lincoln several years ago, he is a Garrard county man, lived here all his life, his people and his interests are still here, and while he resides among our neighbors, we know that "Plummer's" heart is always in Garrard. His host of friends feel deeply interested in the popularity he is achieving in Lincoln, and they point with pride to his latest and greatest achievement, that highly successful fair.
